

Theib Y. Oweis, PhD. Eng.

*32 Mawloud Mukhles St. Abdoun Eshamali
Amman 11195, Jordan
tel.: +962-6-5921606, mobile: +962-796076075
Email: theib.y.oweis@gmail.com*

Independent consultant & former director of, the Water, Land, and Ecosystems Program, the International Center for Agricultural Research in the Dry Areas (ICARDA). Formerly, a distinguished professor of agricultural water management at Tottori University in Japan. Since 1991, worked for ICARDA as director, scientist, and research manager. Earlier, worked for the University of Jordan, as an assistant prof. in irrigation and drainage engineering. Received BSc. degree in agriculture and MSc and Ph.D. in irrigation engineering from Utah State University, Utah, USA. Has over 40 years of experience and leadership in international research and development, capacity building, and agricultural water management. Worked in over 80 countries on implementing projects, training, and mobilizing funds for agricultural water management projects in developing countries. Author of 86 refereed journal publications, 13 books, 34 book chapters, and over 200 proceedings, reports, and awareness publications in the areas of water use efficiency, supplemental irrigation, water harvesting, water productivity, deficit irrigation, salinity, and the management of scarce water resources. Reviewer and member of editorial boards of several refereed journals.